The main, primary personal qualities of a child are laid in the family, but the most systematic spiritual and moral development and upbringing of a person takes place in the field of education.

The work of a teacher is one of the most responsible and important specialties of our time. The teacher is the main link between generations, passing on knowledge, shaping the world of teenagers in accordance with the experience and values of society. The task of the teacher is to see individuality in each child and help develop it.

Learning a foreign language is a difficult task. This process takes a huge amount of time and requires a lot of effort. That is why the teacher of a foreign language, especially with whom the study began, as a paramount role. Today, a student begins learning a foreign language from the second grade, it is believed that this age is the most optimal for starting to get acquainted with a foreign alphabet and words.

A foreign language teacher is distinguished by a special specificity of professional activity. He needs to have a high level of knowledge in his specialty, methods of teaching a foreign language and relevant developments in this field. This is especially important in primary schools, where the first attempts to familiarize the child with a foreign language begin, teachers often conduct the first lessons in the form of games and entertainment for easier learning. It is also quite effective to use audio or video learning formats.

It is important to note that today the main task of teaching a foreign language is familiarization with a different culture and active participation in the dialogue of cultures. Learning a foreign language is not limited to learning the alphabet or learning the correct pronunciation of words. A foreign language is also the study of the history of the people, norms and concepts, immersion in everyday life and traditions, because each language is unique and does not resemble any other language.
